

SUPERIOR LEARNING. BETTER VALUE.

LingroLearning's co-founders and authors share a deep commitment to creating high-quality language teaching and learning materials and related services that are affordable and accessible to all students.

Language course materials are among the most expensive with students often spending upwards of $300-$500 across multiple semesters or courses. The alternative of low cost or no-cost OER often results in more work by instructors for a sub-optimal student learning experience.

LingroLearning guarantees students will never purchase more than two subscriptions for the highest quality materials when they are selected to span the basic language course sequence. Our unwavering commitment to delivering fully digital language services furthers our sustainability goals.

“LingroLearning’s commitment to affordability doesn’t stop at a price point comparison. We believe a commitment to affordability is a commitment to access, a commitment to understanding the needs and challenges students face, a commitment to more.”
